While trying to complete the requested address and employer information for our individual contributors, my laptop containing all of my information was stolen 3 days before the due date for that information.

Once I received a new laptop, I found out that I had to recreate the report and then amend it. When it downloaded, a lot of information was lost. As a result it had to be recreated from our records. In the middle of all this, I had a heart 'Event' and heart operation. I am now able to upload the requested information so that this report should be accurate.
